

SWANSON WORKS FOR JAMESTOWN

The Commission to Meet to Consider Design for Virginia Building.

NEW EXPERIMENT STATION

Special Committee Examines a Number of Sites and Will Select One To-day.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., May 8.—The Virginia commissioners of the Jamestown Exposition will hold a meeting at the Monticello Hotel, in this city, on May 24. Governor Swanson, one of the commissioners, will be in attendance. The design for the Virginia building at the Exposition will be considered on that day, although it will not be adopted at that time. All architects of the State who will submit designs for the building are invited to appear before the commissioners and exhibit any drawings or make any suggestions they may desire. In the absence of architects, the commissioners have caused to be published the following announcement regarding the nature of the building to be erected: "The building is to be of colonial style of architecture; is to have both land and water fronts; it can be an original design or a reproduction. The cost must not exceed $25,000, including all stationery, fixtures and architect's commissions. The first floor will have a hall and one large reception room, four other medium sized rooms, two small rooms and toilets. The second floor will contain at least eight bed-rooms, with two baths. Governor Swanson is extending much interest in the success of the Exposition. He has told a close personal friend here that he will go to Washington in the next few days for the purpose of doing all he can in the interest of the Jamestown appropriation bill."

EXPERIMENT STATION.
The special committee from the State Board of Agriculture, appointed to recommend a site for the proposed experiment station in this vicinity, arrived here to-day and spent several hours in conference with representatives of the Southern Produce Company and others interested in the establishment of the station. The meeting took place at the Monticello Hotel. In the afternoon the special committee, accompanied by a party of truckers, inspected a large site at Kempsville, Princess Anne county. The committee will go to Nansemond county to look over a new site that has been offered. The committee expects to complete its business in time to leave here to-morrow evening.

The members of the State Board who are here are: C. H. Heister, of Middleburg; W. H. Eggeborn, of Culpeper; and J. W. C. Beverly.

BATTLESHIP VIRGINIA.
The great battleship Virginia is now in commission, the State and Stripes having been run up her flagstaff at Norfolk Navy-Yard, yesterday afternoon, after Captain Seaton Schroeder, her commander, read the articles of war and the commission to the assembled crew. The crew of the big ship, numbering 675 men, were drawn from the receiving ships Franklin and Richmond.

Interest to Society.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, VA., May 8.—Announcement was made here to-day which will attract widespread interest throughout Virginia and society circles elsewhere, of the engagement of Miss Esther Lewis, daughter of Mrs. Daingerfield Lewis, of the historic "Audley" estate, in Clarke

GENEROUS OCCASION.

Rev. R. H. Bowden Pounded and Given Handsome Purse.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ROD HILL, ALBEMARLE COUNTY, VA., May 8.—Many of the members and friends of the Mooreland Baptist Church met at the Baptist parsonage, near this place, Friday afternoon, and met and presented their pastor, Rev. R. H. Bowden, and his wife. The party took the pastor and his wife unawares and filled their larger with edibles such as hams, slices of bacon, tea, coffee, postum, sugar, preserves, canned fruits of every description and name, potatoes, and a large quantity of early vegetables, besides all this and much more, a nice purse was left, which doubtless the pastor will use as he expects to go to the Southern Baptist Convention, which meets in Chattanooga on the tenth instant.

The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all present, and after spending a social hour at the parsonage, the party left for their homes, while their grateful pastor and his good wife were busy storing away their grateful supply of good things.

DIED OF HIS WOUND.

Eddie Green Hunted for His Wife Four Days to Shoot Her.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WILLIAMSBURG, VA., May 8.—Eddie Green, the negro who shot his wife here last night and then shot himself, died in the jail at 11 o'clock this morning. The bullet took effect in his brain, but he lived exactly sixteen hours, notwithstanding though he never regained consciousness. His wife's wounds are pronounced serious, but not fatal.

After his death, two letters were found in the negro's pockets, one addressed to his mother, and one to the public, explaining his act. It seems that his wife left him about two months ago, and went to Hampton with another man. Recently she returned to Williamsburg, and for the past three or four days he has been hunting for a chance to shoot her.

Fredericksburg Notes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FREDERICKSBURG, VA., May 8.—Richard Shelton, son of C. W. Shelton, of Caroline county, was fatally killed Friday while at work at a saw mill in that county. He was thrown against a running saw by the breaking of a log, and his head was badly cut. The young man was twenty-five years old.

The handsome residence of Mrs. F. May Rowlett, on Prince Edward street, in this city, has been sold at public auction and was purchased by Dr. J. P. Stiff for $6,250.

Mr. W. L. Watson, who purchased of Captain C. W. Wallace the old "Central Hotel" property, on Main Street, in this city, is having the building torn down and will erect a modern business building on the site.

Mr. W. S. Williams, of Philadelphia, who conducted a foundry here, which was destroyed by fire, contemplates building a foundry on the old site.

Will Save Fine Ship.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., May 8.—The full-rigged British steel ship Clyde, of 1,622 tons, which was driven on the beach at Chicamoccon, fifteen miles north of Cape Hatteras, on March 8th, while on her way from Baltimore to New York, and Calcutta, was hauled fifty feet toward deep water last night by the Merritt & Chapman Wrecking Company. The wreckers expect to have the ship clear of the shoals within a short time. The Clyde is one of the finest sailing ships afloat and seems to be yet in good condition.

Nurses' Convention.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, VA., May 8.—The sixth annual convention of the Graduate Nurses' Association of Virginia will be held in this city, commencing to-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock, with an executive session at the St. Andrew's Home. The address of welcome will be made by Mr. N. C. Manson, Jr.

The business sessions of the convention will be held at the Elks' Home during the day. On Thursday the delegates will be taken on a trolley ride, and at 8:30 o'clock Friday night they will be entertained at an elaborate banquet at the Hotel Carroll.

EIGHTEEN YEARS FOR MURDER

Verdict Against Theron Rhiney Jones for Killing George Valentine.

STEAMER FOR JAMES RIVER

The Midnight Closing of Saloons Concurred in By Aldermen.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., May 8.—Murder in the second degree, with the extreme penalty, eighteen years in the penitentiary, was the verdict this morning in the case of Theron Rhiney Jones, a young negro, who shot and killed George Valentine, colored, in Willis Gillum's saloon March 21st. The case aroused great interest, and was on trial all yesterday in the Hustings Court. Six jurors were in favor of the death penalty, and at 12 o'clock last night, a verdict not having been reached, the jury was taken to a hotel in the custody of the sheriff, and reached an agreement soon after the opening of court this morning. Self-defense was the plea for the prisoner, on the ground that Valentine had previously threatened his life, and in the altercation in the saloon had placed both hands on Jones's shoulders and pushed him toward the door, at which time the fatal shot was fired. On the stand Jones claimed that Valentine was choking him at the moment of firing, but the fact that he had gone to the bar-room armed with a pistol, blackjack and knife, and had called Valentine aside, proved convicting evidence. The prisoner was very ably defended by Wilcox and Wilcox, who moved for a new trial. Commonwealth's Attorney R. H. Mann conducted the prosecution.

A large twin screw steel steamer, purchased in Nova Scotia, will soon be put on the route between Petersburg and Norfolk by the James River Navigation Company, which is composed of well known business men of this city.

The Board of Aldermen has concurred in the ordinance recently passed by the Council providing for the closing of saloons from midnight until 5 o'clock in the morning, and the prohibition of push carts from blocking the streets. The saloon ordinance also requires that all screens, shades and other obstructions before bars shall be removed during the closed hours.

The Board has also concurred in the Council resolution appropriating thirty-five thousand dollars for the improvement of sidewalks and extension of sewers, and the section of the license tax ordinance applying to all merchandise brokers, which, with the obstruction ordinance, was passed over Mayor Jones's veto.

ELEGANT WEDDING.

Miss Pauline Cone the Bride of Rev. Oscar Earnest Samms.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FRONT ROYAL, VA., May 8.—One of the most brilliant social events of the season took place this evening at the Baptist Church at Riverton, Va., when Miss Pauline Lacey Cone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cone, and Rev. Oscar Earnest Samms, of Lynchburg, Va., were married by Rev. W. F. Disher, of Alexandria, Va.

The church was darkened and tastefully decorated in running pine, while the altar was banked with palms and ferns. As Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered the bride entered the church with her father, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Rev. Amos Clark.

The bride was attired in white messaline, over taffeta made princess, with extreme train, bertha of duchess and rose point lace, and carried Bride roses. Her veil was caught by the diamond engagement ring and a brooch of diamond and pearls, a gift of the groom, was worn at the throat.

The maid of honor was Miss Charlotte Batty, of Connecticut, the bride's cousin, who wore a gown of pink ruffled silk over taffeta, carrying Bride roses and wore necklace of pearls and diamond, a gift of the groom.

The bridesmaids were Misses Julia Jackson Lesley Forsyth, Mary Waller, of Front Royal, Va., and Katie Staples, of Harrisonburg, Va., all wearing light green silk mull and carrying pink carnations.

Little Miss Mildred Cone, sister of the bride, was the ring-bearer.

The ushers were Messrs. Ralph Staples, John Yancey, and Gratton Price, of Harrisonburg, Va., and Seely Cone, of Riverton, Va.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to the bridal party, after which the couple took an early train for an extended tour to the Lake Northern cities. Mr. and Mrs. Samms will reside in Lynchburg, Va., where Mr. Samms is the pastor of the Cabell Street Baptist Church.

Warm Words of Praise

From Times-Dispatch Readers

GRATIFYING TO ALL VIRGINIANS.

By F. W. Houtwright, President Richmond College:

"The enterprise shown by The Times-Dispatch in introducing new features into its columns is most gratifying to all Virginians. The paper serves an ever-widening constituency, and its efforts to please and instruct its great circle of readers deserves the highest commendation. The plan of publishing a complete new novel each month by writers of the highest rank is an innovation that is bound to attract favorable attention. I hope this spirit of enterprise may receive the cordial response which it merits from lovers of good literature."

BEST BOOKS, FREE TO ALL.

By John P. Kennedy, State Librarian:

"I have noted with pleasure the distinct advance made by The Times-Dispatch in recent years, and particularly of recent date. Your determination to give to the people novels by the leading writers of the day is certainly noteworthy, since it furnishes, free to all, reading matter of the highest character and in the most acceptable form."

"Your plan enables lovers of fiction to read the best books procurable, and it comes nearer equalizing reading opportunities than any other arrangement for the diffusion of literature of which I am aware. An appreciation of the opportunities you are affording the public will lead to higher education and develop thought in quantity throughout the State."

GREAT DEMAND FOR TIMES-DISPATCH.

By George Bryan, Esq., Richmond, Va.:

"Good fiction is a necessary article in the popular diet—it might be called the dessert after a meal of facts. It goes without saying that the better the fiction the better for the digestion. The series of stories which The Times-Dispatch inaugurated with its issue of yesterday is bound to appeal to good literary taste. One of its leading features is the fine English style of the authors, and another their avowed desire to interest and amuse otherwise than along the line of the so-called standard continental fiction. This new feature of The Times-Dispatch will, I think, bless both him that gives and him that takes, by supplying high-grade literature at an insignificant price, and at the same time adding largely to the demand for the paper."

EXILED MEMBER PROMINENT FAMILY

Marriage Certificate Reveals Double Life of Newport News Murderer and Wife.

JURY PINDS PAVLINIC GUILTY

Killed His Wife, According to Promise, When She Developed Insanity.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., May 8.—The finding of a wedding certificate containing the names of Emil Gailitzsch and Maxim Gerber in the house in which the Austrian, known as Julian Pavlinic killed his wife Sunday night, leads the authorities to suspect that the couple had been living in this country under an assumed name. Pavlinic declines to make any explanation of the marriage certificate, refuses to tell anything about his family, and acts in a manner so mysterious, that it is evident that he is either crazy or is hiding from the authorities what is, or what he supposes to be, an important secret.

Later last night, a coroner's jury, summoned to inquire into the death of Elsa Pavlinic, returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to her death from multiple gunshot wounds, the weapon being in the hands of Julian Pavlinic when fired. The verdict also declares that the killing was "deliberate, premeditated and cold-blooded."

Pavlinic himself was the principal witness before the inquest. He was on the stand for nearly two hours, being closely interrogated by Coroner Vanderslice, of Elizabeth City county. He said that he killed his wife because he had promised her he would do so if she became insane again. She begged him to spare her life after he had fired the first shot, but he kept on shooting, thinking that it was for the best. He put eight bullets from a tiny 22-caliber revolver into the body of the unfortunate woman.

"The prisoner told in detail of how he washed and shrouded the body of his dead wife before coming to this city and surrendering himself. He says he intended killing himself, but was persuaded from his purpose by friends. Pavlinic is being held for a preliminary hearing."

The man was educated at a University in Germany, and is more or less cultured and refined, although he has been working in this country for nine years as a mechanic. He has lived in Camden, N. J.; Petersburg and this city. His wife was twice confined in the Virginia lunatic asylum. She came home the last time in February. The authorities suspect that Pavlinic is a Nihilist, or else is an exiled member of a prominent family in Austria.

Mad Dog Scare.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, VA., May 8.—The entire northern section of Frederick county was last evening almost panic stricken by a mad dog that broke loose and attacked all with whom he came in contact. After an exciting chase the animal was shot to death by an eight-year-old son of Charles Long, of the Middletown neighborhood, who had been snatched by the dog. The little boy obtained his father's rifle and emptied both barrels into his body.

Walked Five Miles to Wed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, VA., May 8.—William Grim, a Frederick county farmer, threw down his work to-day and walked five miles to Winchester with his sweetheart, Miss Sallie Pierson, aged sixteen, and they were married by Rev. Thomas K. Cromer, pastor of Centenary Reformed Church. The bride had her mother's consent. They went on a sight-seeing tour of the city's historical places and then returned to begin housekeeping.

Great Revival Service.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, VA., May 8.—Dr. L. A. Munhall, of Philadelphia, who has been conducting a great revival at the First Presbyterian Church here, under the auspices of nine Protestant churches, brought his work to a close with a big mass-meeting to-night. The local ministers will continue the revival throughout the week.

TO TAKE PLACE OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

General Meeting of Business Men With New Plan in Petersburg.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., May 8.—A general meeting of business men to-night voted to print and distribute the prospectus, constitution and by-laws and subscription agreement of the proposed Business and Credit Association and Investment Company, to do the work of a chamber of commerce, with investment features, which it is believed by the organizers will yield good returns.

The two organizations are to be immediately co-operative, the investment company being incorporated with at least fifty members, who shall subscribe one thousand dollars to the stock and pay annual dues of one hundred dollars, each stockholder to have one vote in the annual election of nine trustees, composing the finance committee of the companies. The plan is advocated and supported by the present Chamber of Commerce. Charles Hall Davis, Augustus Wright, J. W. Seward and Robert Cahan, four of the most influential business men in Petersburg, Mr. Davis explained the plan.

Another meeting will be held at the call of President Beckwith, of the Chamber of Commerce, who presided to-night.

GOOD ROADS.

Association Organized in Tazewell and Will Go to Work.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
TAZEVELL, VA., May 8.—The national good roads convention closed one of the most enjoyable and beneficial conventions last night ever held in Southwest Virginia. As soon as the convention adjourned the Tazewell county Good Roads Association was formed with A. St. Clair, as president; J. A. Lesley, secretary, and H. P. Henson, treasurer. The organization will take steps at once to improve the roads of Tazewell.

Mercy for Cole.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., May 8.—A petition went up from here to Governor Swanson to-night for the pardon of C. P. Cole, formerly local cashier of the Southern Bell Telephone Company. He was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years for embezzling $1,000 funds of the Southern Bell. He has served about eight months of his sentence.

Commonwealth's Attorney John G. Tilton, most of the city officials and scores of business men signed the petition.

A Robber Shot.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PULASKI, May 8.—James F. Breeding, a young man, entered the store of J. M. Nunn, at Delton last night, about 11 o'clock, in which the postoffice is located with robbery as his purpose. Dr. Bruce Clark passed while the man was in the store, and heard him. Dr. Clark hurriedly gathered several parties, and surrounded the store. Breeding endeavored to escape by jumping from a window, but was shot by one of the party, and it is thought will die.

Shoes, knives, stamps and other articles were found on Breeding's person.
